Capiphon Usage - Disclaimer

The information in this website www.capiphon.com.au, the links therein and suggestions made in phone calls and emails, are for general information only and should not be taken as constituting professional advice from the website owner and/or the email author – Capiphon Drainage Australia Pty Ltd (Capiphon Drainage) – to you, the purchaser and/or installer.

Capiphon Drainage is not a drainage contractor or adviser. You should consider seeking independent advice to check how the website, email and telephone information relates to your unique circumstances. It is highly recommended that such a person should inspect the site in person and make appropriate tests and measurements.

Capiphon Drainage is not liable for any loss caused, whether due to negligence or otherwise arising from the use of, or reliance on, the information provided directly or indirectly, by use of this website.

Calculations and Sketches

The calculations on this website and in emails and phone calls are provided for your information and to illustrate scenarios. The results should not be taken as a substitute for professional advice.

All reasonable care has been taken in preparing and designing the calculations, sketches and tools; however, Capiphon Drainage provides no warranties and makes no representation that the information provided by the calculators, sketches and tools is appropriate for your particular circumstances or indicates that you should follow a particular course of action.

Case Studies and Videos

While some case studies, photos and videos on www.capiphon.com.au are known to us and real, others are based material from purchasers of our products. These case studies and videos help us to illustrate different situations in which Capiphon products have been installed.

Given that drainage issues are dependent on long-term rainfall and are dependent of such variables as the underlying rock, soil type, slope, and impediments to surface drainage, some case studies show only the installation and may not show the long-term benefits.
